A face in the crowd could be anyone, if it's you, we've tried to reach out to search your face and find it's meaning

sad face
happy face
serious face
silly face
expressing feelings
hiding feelings

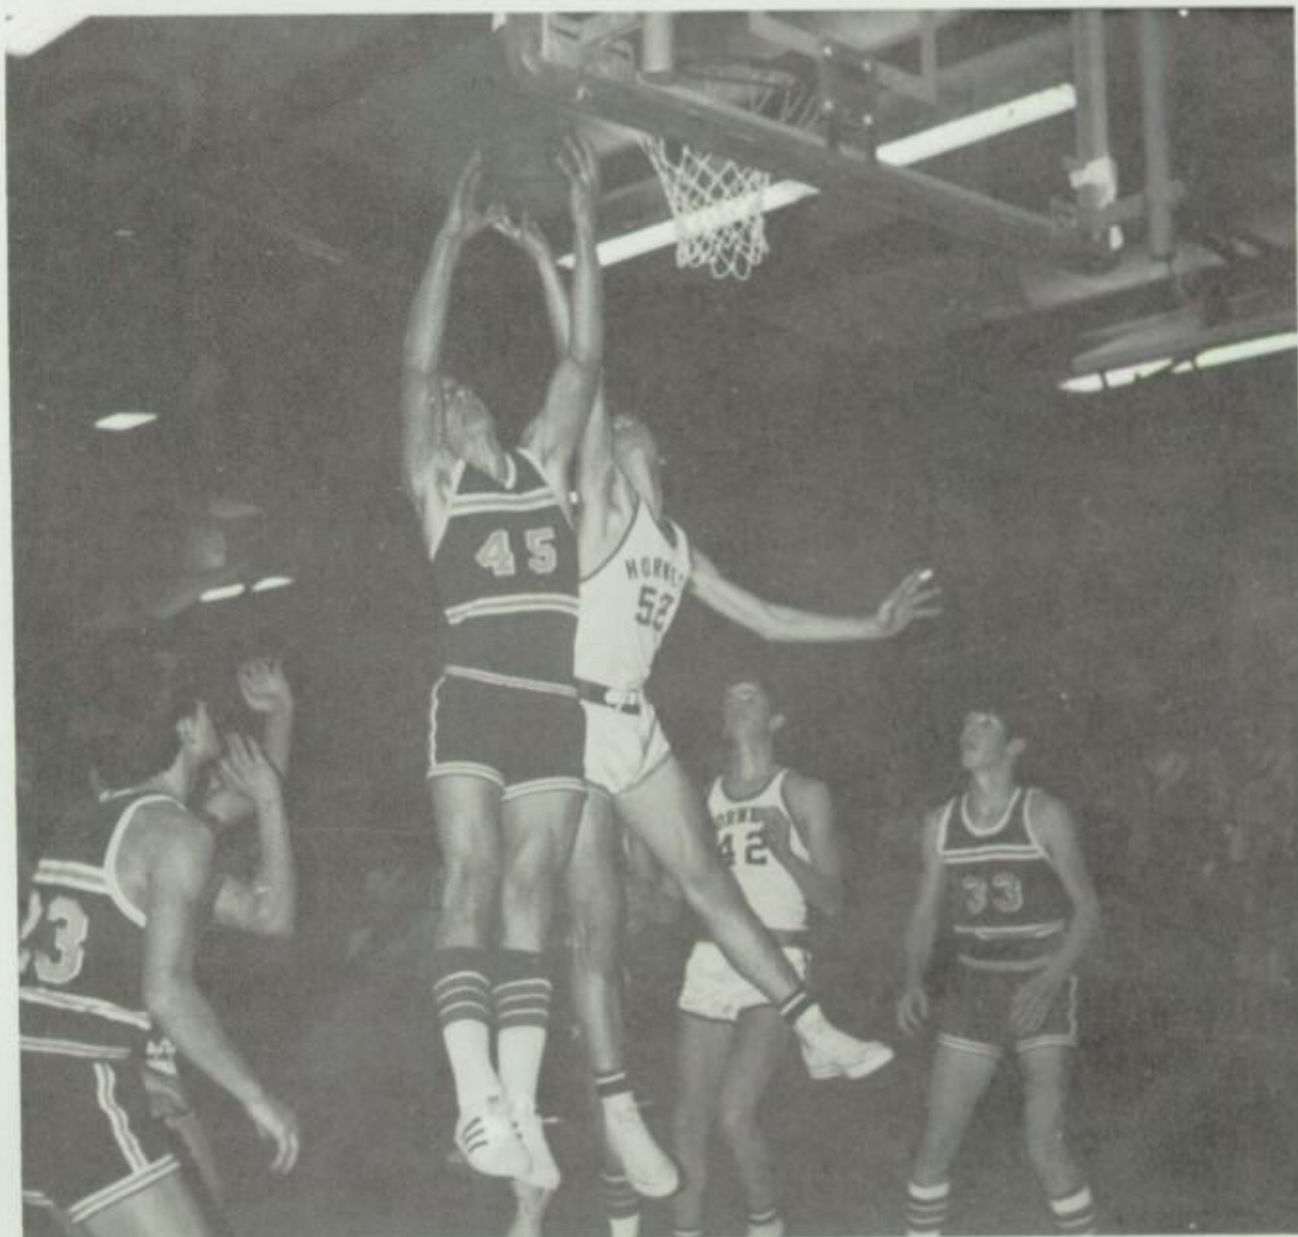

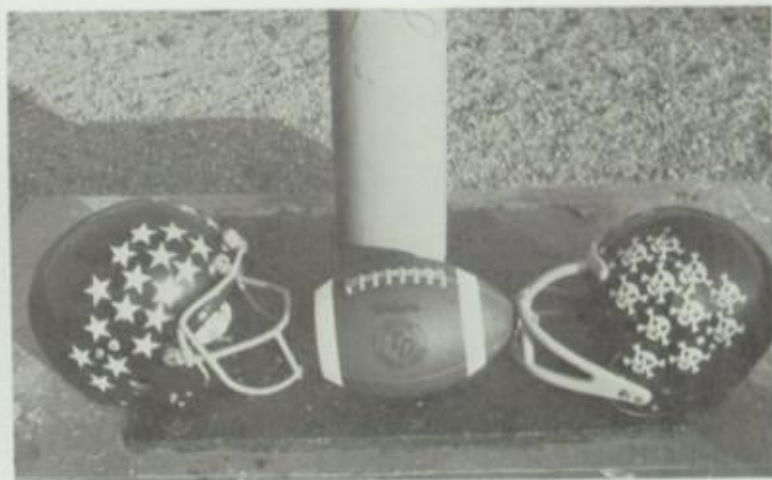

emotions
for the individual
to survive
to express
to be free
this is to be an individual . . .

individuals showing their
abilities and emotions,
players
fans
cheerleaders
coaches
getting emotional
the ball in the air . . .

KNOCK THE
STOCKS OFF
TUSKY

but wait
 one second left
 in the basket
 the buzzer sounds
 game is over
 cheers of joy
 tears of happiness
 we won
 the victory bell sounds . . .

blank faces
entering
class begins
teacher's eyes seeking
thoughts of students
searching their minds
finding awareness . . .

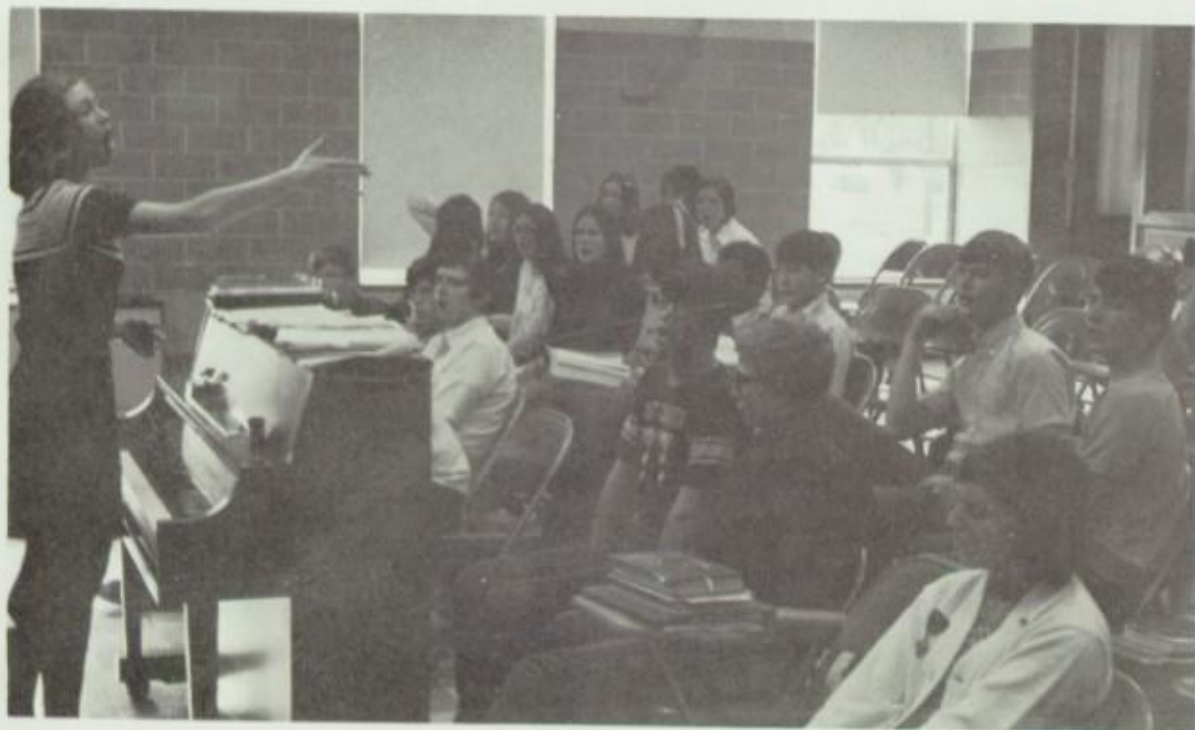

combining two worlds
the world of students
the world of his own
understanding is reached the bell rings
class convenes . . .

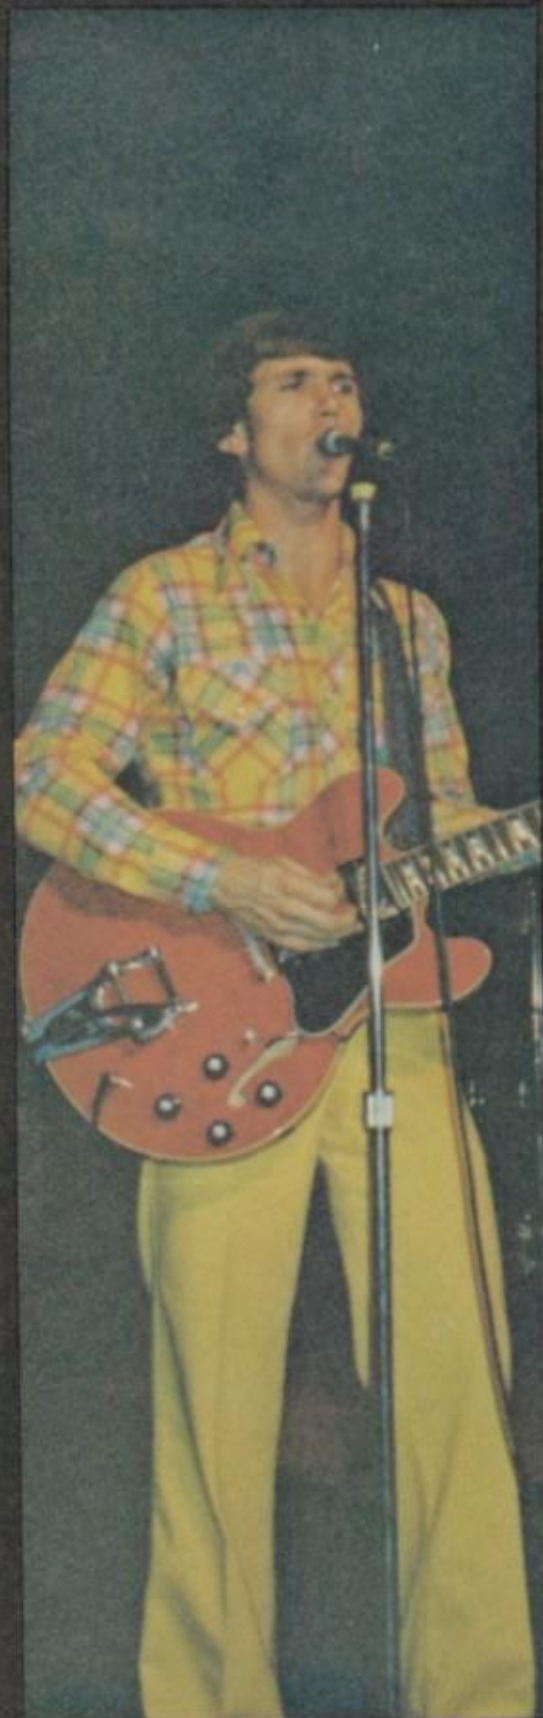

quiet and peaceful
 still and solemn
 a wave of a baton
 stillness no longer
 the blasts of a trumpet
 the shrills of a flute
 the blares of a tuba combine . . .

what is heard
 a sweet melody
 enjoyment
 excitement
 emotion
 what is it all about
 music and life . . .

exploring the realm of classrooms, books, homes reaching out for guidance . . .
yet students find time to serve school, home, community . . .

confused by each
suggestion conforming
the student searching for uniqueness his own . . .

activity everywhere
people, plans, ideas
excitement mounts

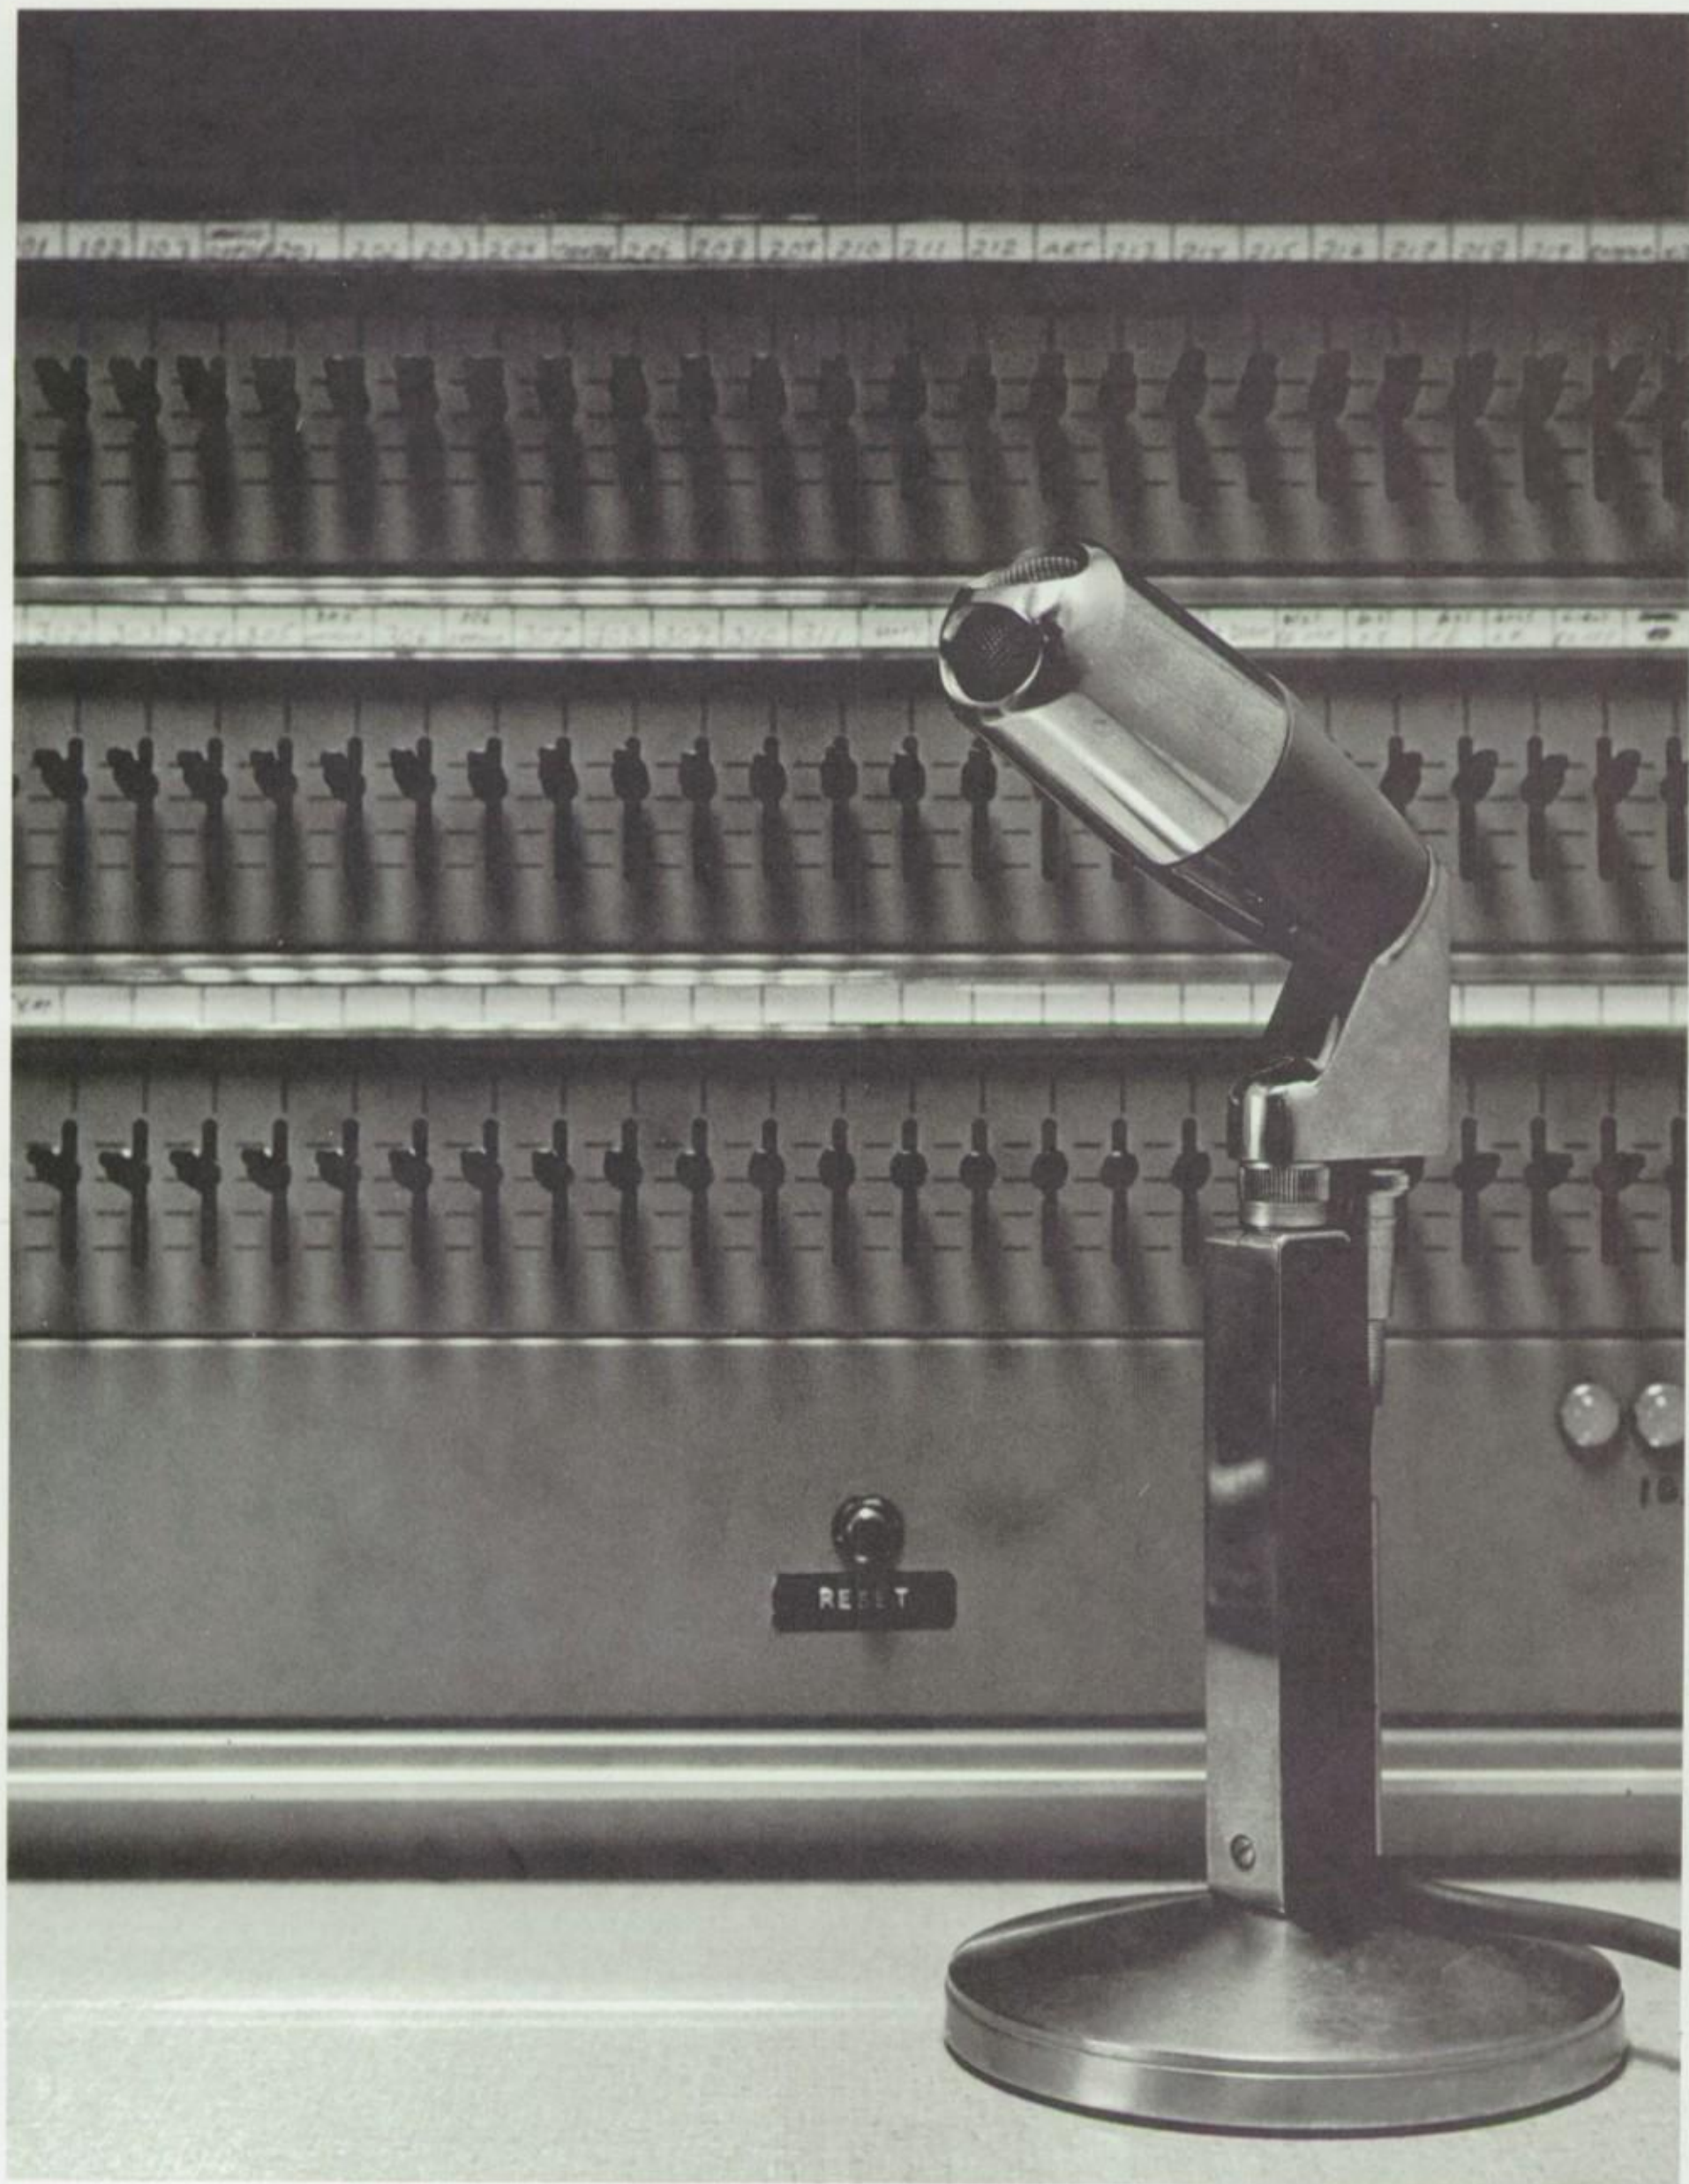

laughter, work, confusion
from this the activities of students derive.

I just want to talk to you
 I just want to know about
 Your different lives
 The rooms behind your minds Let me talk to you

IN MEMORY OF JEFF MORRIS

FRIEND WITHOUT END

James J. Metcalfe

I owe my faith in everything . . . To you, my dearest friend . . . Because your friendship always was
. . . And it will never end . . . It always was, because it seems . . . Like countless years ago . . .
When first we walked as partners in . . . The sunshine and the snow . . . And it will never reach its end
. . . As long as we may live . . . Because we share each other and . . . We have so much to give . . . Your friendship is eternal and . . . My faith is ever true . . . As you have given me belief . . .
In God and life and you . . . I thank you friend, and every day . . . I say a fervent prayer . . . That God will always bless you and protect you everywhere.

CO-CAPTAINS MARTIN and NOVELLI

The East Canton Football season ended at approximately 2:30 on October 27 at Tusky Valley - the eighth game of the season. Following a Hornet touchdown, Willie Moore, star linebacker, was ejected from the game for fighting with a Trojan sophomore nobody. For the only time in that long afternoon, the better than 2,000 fans were momentarily quiet to comprehend the, at least controversial and certainly questionable decision. Rumors flew. Controversy reigned. The season ended. Not only did that decision allow a lesser talented Trojan team to defeat the Hornets, it broke the spirit of East Canton. Whatever chance there was of beating Minerva was lost, and the ultimate result came with a 6-6 deadlock in the Malvern Snow Bowl.

But, just as four men in striped shirts ended the season, so did eleven boys in blue and gold begin it. And what a beginning. Initially picked as a so-so team, the Hornets scoffed at seven consecutive opponents. They stung Saints, mauled Mustangs, and scalped Indians. Heroes were almost too many to mention. The Miraculous catches of Bernie Waechter from the bombs of Bruce Fisher. A line - Carpenter, Levy, and Co. - that opened huge holes for the rushes of Tallman and Dougherty with Clapper and Martin assisting with key blocks. The front four - led by Novelli and Camp - with the ever-present Willie Moore waiting behind. All of these people and more, worked diligently to give East Canton the best start in recent history. Would the end have been any different? We'll never know. The boys in blue and gold decided the first seven games, four officials decided the rest.

We girls were not the only ones who had a hard track season, there were the coaches, Mull and Sternberg, who had to put up with us. Also, the boy members who were very helpful. The harvest moon shone brightly on the homecoming ceremonies at Friday's game with Northwest that saw Miss Connie Krider crowned E.C. Homecoming Queen during the pre-game festivities. Connie was crowned by last year's Queen Cindra Hall who was escorted by Dennis Crawford. The theme "Old Fashioned Homecoming" was carried out in the colorful float which the seniors decorated with rainbow color of pom-pom flowers and toad stool seats for the Queen and court. The girls were driven onto the field in vintage cars owned by members of the community.

HAPPY SCHOOL DAYS

When summertime vacation starts . . . The children all pretend . . . They do not care for school, and they . . . Are glad to see it end . . . But actually they miss it as . . .

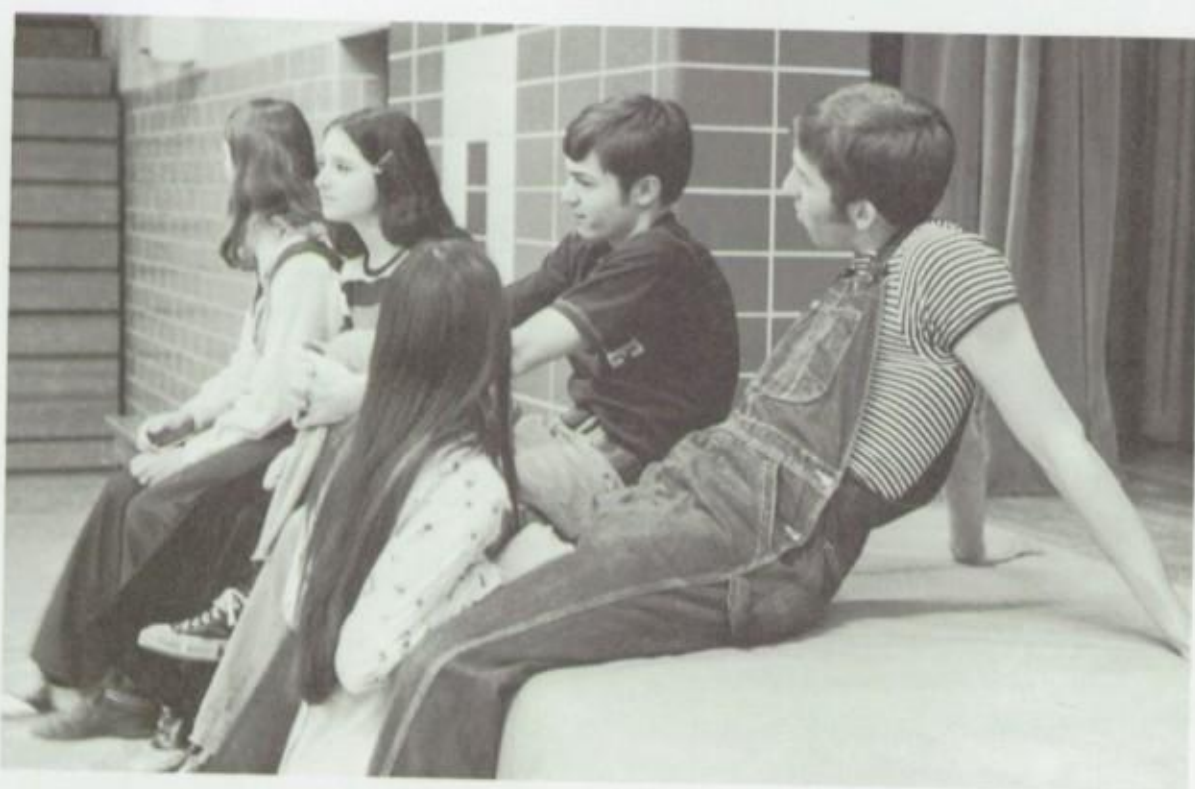

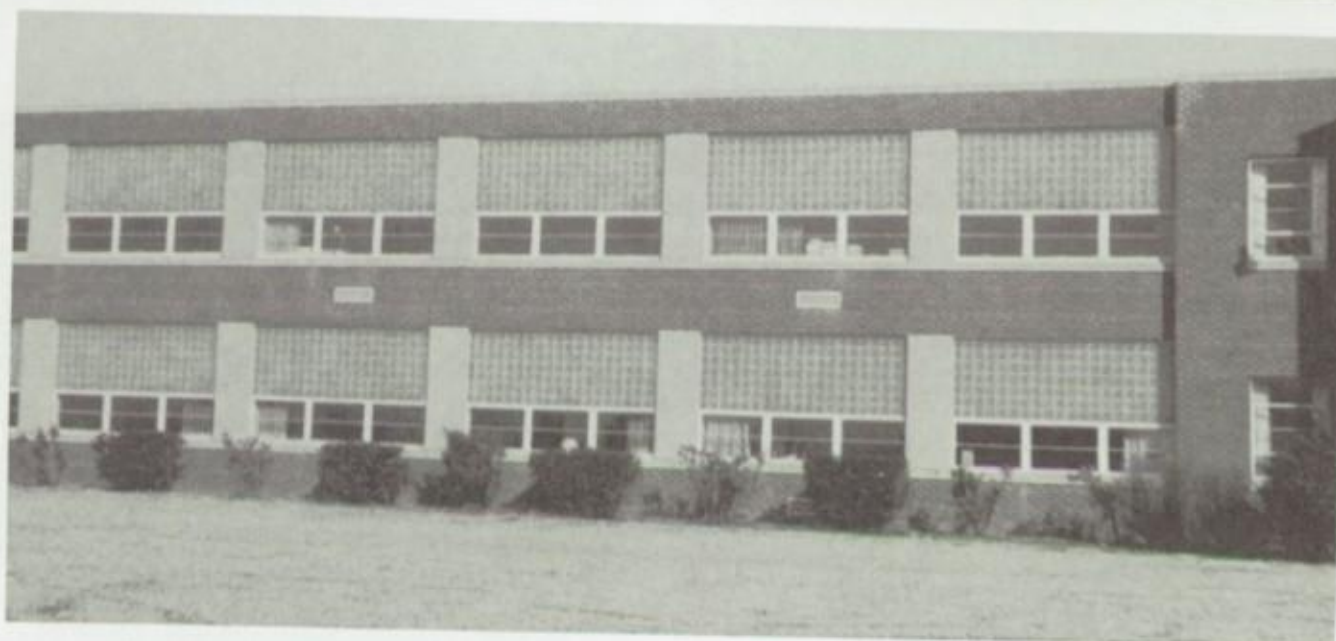

They go their merry ways . . .
And gradually grow tired of . . . The lazy summer days
. . . And they are really happy when . . . The school bell rings once more . . .

And all their friends are there again . . . To greet them at the door . . . They love the blackboard and their books . . .

The pencils and the pads . . .
And all the fond attention from . . . Their mothers and their dads . . . Their hands and hearts rejoice in all . . .

The things they have to do . . .
And while they would not let it known . . . They love their teachers, too.

James J. Metcalfe
